DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. Claims 26-32 and 35-38 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. Please refer to paragraph 3 of the office action dated February 5, 2010.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.
3. Claims 14-38 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sandrin (U.S. 5,050,591) in view of Cook (U.S. 3,045,254). Please refer to paragraph 5 of the above cited office action and the section entitled Response to Arguments below.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments filed 05/17/2010 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Regarding the rejections under 35 U.S.C. 112 1st paragraph, Examiner has identified the claims and stated the types of limitations that are at issue, and has further pointed out the specific portions of the specification that discuss the foam blocks. As previously noted, the specification fails to set forth any of the limitations.

Furthermore, the drawings are two dimensional representations that fail to provide adequate support for the claimed limitations of the above identified claims.

5. With respect to Applicant's assertion of the impropriety of the combination of Sandrin and Cook, Examiner refers Applicant to pages 14 and 15 of the BPAI decision filed 11/18/2009. Specifically, Examiner points to the sentences: "We are unconvinced by Appellants' argument that Sandrin expressly teaches away from modifying its mat to include flexible blocks by disclosing the drawbacks of rigid surfaces", "We are also unconvinced by Appellants' contention that modification of the Sandrin mat to include flexible blocks would render Sandrin unsatisfactory for its intended purpose of being capable of being drained to roll up the mat", and "We agree with the Examiner, and Appellants have not convinced us otherwise, that a person of ordinary skill in the art would select foam that provides adequate support while not being so rigid as to prevent the mat from being rolled up." With respect to claims 27-38, Examiner has acknowledged that the prior art does not explicitly teach the limitations regarding patterns, size considerations, and the like. However, as stated in the previous action, such limitations absent criticality or unexpected results amount to a matter of ordinary design choice, as it appears they serve no inherent purpose, nor serve any inherent advantage (hence the term 'design choice').

Conclusion

6. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
